teason that latterly be may have found that entirely honorable ambition tripping over an ambition not quite so admirable. There is more than a suspicion abroad that the president is permitting his mind to linger on thoughts of a third term.

But perhaps the president isn't increoring the third-term idea. He would be the worst-lieked candidate that ever ran if he were normalized to have ran if he were normalized and he may realize that quite clearly. It was san't at one time that the president was grounding McAdoo for the nomination, and possibly they have agreed that a distinguished citizen engaged in replenishing his private fortune. replenishing his private fortune paign for a presidential nominal PROLETA IAT DICTATES of paign for a presidential nomina-
